Behn E. Conroy, LL.B., CMA, P.Eng., is pursuing a Master of Business Administration degree at the Rotman School of Management at the University of Toronto. He studied electrical engineering and also holds a law degree. Behn believes that his engineering skills are enhanced by the legal and business knowledge he has gained. His goal is to use his business education to further contribute to and improve on project management and planning processes at a leading firm in the engineering or natural resource industry, such as mining. Behn is also interested in demonstrating the long-term positive return on investment of mining firms who make the effort to be as environmentally sustainable as possible. He believes it is the responsibility of the engineer to remind owners to invest in operations thoughtfully, for the benefit of both the company and the communities in which they operate.
